The Vet's Day

Michael Peterson is a vet. He works in a small town in England.

Michael's day begins very early at six o'clock. He gets up, has a quick breakfast, then gets into his car. In the mornings, he drives around the local farms to check on the animals – cows, sheep and horses.

At eleven o'clock, he goes to his surgery in the town. People bring their pets for Michael to look at. Most of the time, they only need an injection or some medicine, but sometimes they need an operation. Michael usually has lunch – a sandwich – standing up! In the afternoons, Michael often goes to schools in the area to talk to the students about looking after their pets. Michael's evenings are very quiet.

When he gets home, he cooks dinner and usually reads or watches TV. He goes to bed early, ready to face the next busy day. In his free time, Michael likes going to the cinema or taking long walks in the country with his two dogs, Sheba and Nell.

Верно (true) или неверно (false)?

1 Michael gets up at 7 o'clock.

2 After breakfast he goes to the farms to see the animals: cats and dogs.

3 Michael gives the animals some medicine or injections.

4 Michael never has lunch.

The National Sport of England

Football is the most popular sport in England. In fact, a lot of English people say it is their national sport.

English people have played football for a very long time. However, the game didn't have any real rules until the l9th century. In 1815, Eton College created rules to make the game less violent and later, in 1848, Cambridge university made many of the modern rules. Football quickly became as popular as other games such as cricket.

Today, there are thousands of football clubs in England, and professional clubs, such as Arsenal, Liverpool and Manchester United are famous all over the world.

Football has become part of the cultural life in England and hundreds of thousands of fans support their favourite teams in stadiums around the country every weekend. Many English children have football lessons at school. And

A symbol of Paris

Being one of the most popular sites in the world, the Eiffel Tower attracts hundreds of thousands of tourists every year. In fact, the structure, received its two hundredth millionth guest in 2002. Located on the Champs de Mars by the Seine River, visitors can make their way to the top and admire the breath taking view of Paris.

The Tower was the inspiration of French engineer Gustave Eiffel. A very famous personality in his time, Eiffel had also done important work for the internal structure of another famous monument, the Statue of Liberty in the USA. Work on the Eiffel Tower began in 1887 and lasted until 1889, when the building was opened to the public during the Paris World Exposition. Until 1930 and the construction of the Chrysler Building in New York, the Tower remained the highest structure in the world.

Many people, especially artists, criticized the structure saying that this distasteful structure did not fit in with the beauty of Paris. One of these critics was the French writer Guy de Maupassant, who ate at one of the tower's restaurants almost every day, because it was the only place in Paris from where the tower was not visible, and so he wouldn't have to see it!

A lot of effort and money go into keeping the Tower in good condition. Every seven years, sixty metric tons of paint are used to repaint it. Different shades of the same colour are used on the top and darker ones on the bottom in order for the building to have an unvarying appearance.
